SUPREME COURT ORDERS REPORTER BACK TO JAIL

"Republic's" Correspondent at Jefferson City Remanded Until Nov. 16 Unless He Divulges Name of His Informant as to Grand Jury Proceedings.

JUDGE SLATE IS UPHELD BY RULING

Newspaper Prematurely Reported Indictment Had Been Returned in Coal Scandal—Writer Said Information Was in Confidence.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 8.—Robert E. Hollway, State capital representative of the St. Louis Republic, today was ordered by the Missouri Supreme Court to be committed to jail without bail until Nov. 16, unless he can show that time he answers questions propounded to him by the Cole County grand jury as to the source of his information for a news story announcing that seven indictments had been voted by the grand jury before the indictments were returned into court.

The opinion was written by Judge Paris and was concurred in by Judges Walker and Williams. There is considerable speculation in Jefferson City as to where Hollway obtained his information, which the day after publication of the story was found to be correct. From this fact it is believed by persons in touch with the grand jury inquiry that an officer of the court, who was in a position to have knowledge of everything that went before the grand jury was Hollway's informant.

In its opinion the Supreme Court held that the grand jury had the right to ask Hollway about the source of information because under the law it was the duty of the grand jury to indict any of its individual members or any officer of the court who divulged that indictments had been voted before the persons indicted actually were in custody.

When Hollway was summoned as a witness before the grand jury he refused to answer the questions asked him, and he was taken before Circuit Judge Sale, where he announced that the information was confidential and that he would continue to refuse to answer. Judge Sale ordered him committed to jail for contempt. After five hours imprisonment Hollway was released on a writ of habeas corpus issued by the Supreme Court.

It was on a hearing to determine whether the writ should be made permanent that the Supreme Court handed down its opinion today.

The Supreme Court brushed aside Hollway's contentions that the indictment was imperfect, and the future contention that he was within his constitutional rights in refusing to answer.

Judge Slate Upheld.
After setting out the sections of the statute requiring that all witnesses before the grand jury be sworn not to divulge matters they learned while in the grand jury room, and requiring secrecy as to indictments until after the indicted persons were under arrest, and providing that any officer member of the jury who divulged its secrets was guilty of a misdemeanor, the Supreme Court said:

"Nor does it change the rule that he who violates any of the above statutes was under the guise of friendship induced to do so by someone desiring to scoop his competitor in the business of obtaining and printing so-called news. The cold commercial desire to print facts in advance of the time when public policy or the public welfare permits the same to be made public, may be good business, but it is poor patriotism, and worse citizenship. It is at best a vicious sort of harmful intermeddling with the enforcement of the law and the conservation of the public welfare."

The Supreme Court orders Hollway committed to the Cole County Jail without bail until he answers the questions. Under the law he cannot be held in jail after the expiration of the present term of the Cole County Circuit Court, which will be Nov. 16.

Hollway said to a Post-Dispatch reporter at noon that he probably would go to jail.

LIBERTY MOTOR TRUCK FOR ARMY IS COMPLETED

35,000 Copies of Standardized Machine Will Be Turned Out by July 1.

LIMA, O., Oct. 8.—The first Liberty motor truck for the United States army, product of the greatest motor truck designers of the country and the combined genius of the motor truck plants and 62 automobile parts factories, was completed here today at a local manufacturing plant.

The standardized machine, of which 35,000 copies will be turned out in the first half of 1918 for the army, is said to represent the perfection of automobile truck development. Its motor power is derived from the new Liberty motor, recently perfected at Washington by experts.

Lima is preparing for a great patriotic demonstration when the new army truck is given its first road test, probably late this week. High army officers, including the Quartermaster-General and possibly Secretary of War Baker, are arranging to attend. Following tests at the factory, the truck will start on an endurance run to the East.

The first Liberty motor truck was built in the greatest secrecy to protect it from enemy eyes. A building without windows and lighted only by skylights, housed the truck during the three weeks of its construction. The plant was closely guarded by armed men night and day.

As an added precaution a second truck was assembled in an Eastern city. As each part was completed here, a duplicate was dispatched to a Northern New York town, where mechanics assembled a second machine. If the parts were small, they were sent by registered mail. If too big to ship that way, trusted mechanics carried them personally by train.

Similar precautions surrounded parts manufactured in the sixty odd factories which contributed to the machine. As each part was completed it was dispatched to Lima in charge of an army representative, who kept factory officials informed of his progress by telegraph. No one company knows the complete design or what other companies made other parts.

Russians Capture German Head of Black Sea Air Service.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—Russian scouts from the Caucasus army in a daring raid captured Gen. Count von Aven, head of the German air service in the Black Sea district, says an official announcement.

The trial of Wood and Keane, after the selection of the jury, is not expected to be of long duration. They are charged with the murder of Scott Clark, the negro who was shot and beaten by the mob at Broadway and Fourth street, and who was being dragged along Broadway by a rope around his neck when militiamen seized his captors. This was just before dark on the evening of July 2, and after a number of negroes, driven from their homes by fire, had been murdered in the immediate neighborhood, without interference by the militia. Clark, who was rescued by the soldiers, died four days later.

GERMAN RAIDERS FROM SEE ADLER REPORTED CAUGHT

Whaleboat With Machine Guns Said to Have Been Taken Near Fiji Islands.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Melbourne says it is reported there that a whaleboat with a crew of Germans from the raider See Adler has been captured near the Fiji Islands. The boat contained a gun and machine guns, the dispatch says, and the Germans admitted they had been detected from the See Adler to make raids.

The presence of two German sea raiders in the South Pacific was made known in dispatches from Melbourne to the Navy Department last week. Both vessels are said to have been manned by the crew of the See Adler. Seven merchantmen are reported to have been sunk. The See Adler was active in the South Atlantic last spring, sinking 11 merchantmen there.

RUSSIAN RAILROAD STRIKE ORDER BECOMES EFFECTIVE

All Passenger Trains Out of Petrograd Except Those for the Front Are Abandoned.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—The general railway strike order which promises a complete tie-up of traffic except sanitary and military trains became effective Saturday midnight. All passenger trains scheduled to leave Petrograd except for the front were abandoned.

The strike was carried into effect by the railway workers. M. Nikitin, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, said the strikers would have to answer charges of treason, and calling upon the telegraph operators to refuse to transmit the strike order.

The workers in all the paper factories of Petrograd have gone on strike. The strike threatens if prolonged seriously to embarrass the early convocation of the constituent assembly owing to the demand for paper for the electoral bulletins, which had been ordered from the factories affected.

M'ADOO REBUKES FARMER CRITIC OF LIBERTY LOAN

"It Is a Pity These Brave Men Must Fight for You, for You Are Not Worth Fighting For," He Writes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—An unfavorable response by Dr. H. E. Stockbridge of the Farmers' National Congress, to an appeal for aid in the second Liberty loan campaign has been repudiated by Joshua Strang, chairman of the Congress Executive Committee. In a letter to Secretary M'Adoo Strang says he deems the request a recognition of the farmers and that the Executive Committee was in no way responsible for Stockbridge's action.

Secretary M'Adoo withdrew his request after Dr. Stockbridge had notified him that "the appeal meets little response from us," basing his position on the ground that the Secretary favored the McKellar amendment to the war tax bill, increasing second class postage rates. The Secretary, in his reply, denied this.

"If you really entertain the sentiments you have expressed in your telegram," M'Adoo wrote, "it is a pity these brave men must fight for you, for you are not worth fighting for."

SUPREME COURT WILL TAKE UP HEARST-ASSOCIATED PRESS SUIT

Case Involving Right to Use of News Will Be Heard on Its Merits Jan. 10.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Supreme Court decided today to review Federal decrees which restrained the International News Service or Hearst Service "from pirating" news from the Associated Press.

Attorneys for the International News Service last summer asked Justice Brandeis to temporarily stay the decrees of the lower court, but this was denied.

Attorneys for the Associated Press did not oppose the application to have the court consider the case on its merits, considering that the questions involved were of such importance that they should be decided definitely by the highest court.

Today's action of the court does not stay the operation of the injunctions already existing, court officials said, but merely provided for a review to which there was no opposition by the Associated Press.

TEST OF SOLDIERS' BRAINS

Psychologists Will Examine Enlisted Men in All Cantonnements.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Every one of the 160,000 enlisted men in the national army cantonnements, Camp Evans, Camp Dix, Camp Lee and Camp Taylor is to receive a rating from the section of psychology in the Surgeon-General's office. This is another way of saying that the brain capacity of the national army is to be determined by distinguished psychologists after painstaking study and tests.

The psychologists first made 500 examinations in different parts of the country, meeting later to compare results and improve methods. They examined 4000 more and repeated their conferences. Now they are ready to go ahead with the larger work, which ultimately will be extended to all national army cantonnements.

T. W. PRICE'S WIFE FILES A SEPARATE MAINTENANCE SUIT

Broker Failed to Support Her "In Style Commensurate With Means," Is Plea.

WANTS $500 MONTHLY

Husband Would Not Permit Her to Manage Home, She Declares.

Mrs. Beatrice L. Price of 26 North King's highway, today filed suit for $500 a month separate maintenance against Thomas E. Price, wealthy grain dealer and member of the Merchants' Exchange. The petition asserts they were married June 16, 1915, and separated Sept. 20 last.

Mrs. Price alleges that since their marriage Price has refused to provide for her in a manner commensurate to his income, requiring her to exist on a monthly stipend, "while he lived in style and luxury becoming that of a millionaire—which he is."

The petition also declares that he humiliated her by refusing to permit her to manage her own home and insisting that this management be left in the hands of servants.

She alleges that on many occasions, in the presence of their two children, he referred to her as crazy and told the children to pay no attention to her.

She also asserts that he told her that if she permitted her to manage the home the family would starve and she would "put it all on her back." Although a millionaire, she declares, he would not permit her to purchase necessary clothing and stopped her credit at the stores.

In the last 15 years, she alleges, he refused to accompany her to places of amusement and found his pleasure with others, remaining away from home "all hours of the day and night."

The Prices have two children, Leslie, 18, and Virginia, 14. On the night of Sept. 14 last, policemen were summoned to the Price home by a telephone message that someone was about to be shot. They found Mrs. Price standing at the top of a stairway, leveling a loaded revolver at her husband, who was in the lower hall. The policemen induced her to surrender the revolver.

Price later refused to discuss the incident, except to verify it and to say his wife was "extremely nervous." Dr. Louis P. Butler at that time said he had been treating Mrs. Price for hysteria.

SPAIN TO DISCIPLINE MEN WHO INTERNED U-BOAT THAT ESCAPED

Ambassador to U. S. Says Government Has Picked Courtmartial Over Event at Cadiz.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Spanish Government has taken drastic action to discipline the officials responsible for the safe internment of the German submarine which escaped from Cadiz.

On the basis of official dispatches from Madrid, the Spanish Ambassador here, Juan Riano, made this announcement.

"In spite of all the precautions taken by the Spanish naval authorities, including the removal of pieces which were supposed indispensable for navigation, the German submarine UC-123, interned at Cadiz, escaped yesterday afternoon, leaving its guns, torpedoes and munitions on land, where they had been deposited."

"The Spanish Government has opened a courtmartial and has also decreed the destitution of the Commander in Chief and the First Adjutant of the Arsenal and of the Technical Commission which examined the submarine, and the release of the General in command of the Naval Department of Cadiz, apart from other disposition which it may consider fit to adopt later on."

MISSOURI NEEDS HARVEST HANDS

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 8.—An appeal for several thousand harvest hands to assist in gathering Missouri's corn crop and in sowing the winter wheat crop was issued last night by William H. Lewis, State Labor Commissioner who, in a formal statement, declared that unless the force is available immediately thousands of bushels of corn must go to waste.

Newspapers of Illinois, Kansas and Nebraska have been asked to give publicity to the appeal.

Supreme Court Takes Action to Permit Early Decision.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—To permit an early decision, the Supreme Court today advanced appeals involving constitutionality of the draft law and fixed Dec. 10 for hearing arguments.

WADE ALARMED AT APATHY OF RICH TO LIBERTY BONDS

Subscriptions to First Issue Twice as Heavy in Initial Week, He Declares.

ASSAILS TAX CRITICS

Declares People Should Be Glad They Are Fortunate Enough to Pay War Levy.

Festus J. Wade, president of the Mercantile Trust Company, speaking at a luncheon at the City Club today, declared that he was becoming alarmed at the apathy of the rich people of St. Louis in regard to the second Liberty Loan. Of the $10,000,000 subscribed for last week, the Mercantile Trust took $5,000,000 and announced it expected to sell this amount to clients and subscribe for a second similar amount.

Wade pointed out that in the first week of the initial Liberty loan $20,000,000 was subscribed. He said that it was up to the merchants and manufacturers of St. Louis to do their full duty and subscribe liberally and at once for the Government issue.

Concerning the recent war tax bill, Wade said:

"Now and then you hear some rich man, of the head of a rich corporation, grumble about the war tax just levied by Congress. Say to these people that they should thank their God that they were in a position fortunate enough to have these taxes levied upon them. Say to them that every dollar they have made they made through the blessing of God and with the assistance of the United States of America, and now that the very life and liberty of this nation is at stake, they should be the last in the world to grumble or criticize an administration that is trying to protect the democracy and

COLLECTOR MOORE AT WORK ON WAR TAX FOR DISTRICT

Thirty-Five Employees Added to Force to Help in Making Collections.

LIQUOR SURVEY STARTED

Schedules Will Be Distributed With Instructions as to Date for Returns.

Collector of Internal Revenue for the First Missouri District, who comprises 52 counties and St. Louis, has added 35 employees to his force to help collect the distillation tax on the 12,535,000-gallon war revenue tax, which became effective Wednesday with the President's signing of the bill. The tax will be gathered under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and these instructions have not been received by the collector's office.

Work has been started on inventories of beer, liquor and other alcoholic beverages, and tobacco, cigars and cigarettes. Dealers must make returns by Nov. 1.

These on incomes of individuals, corporations and on excess profits resulting from the war are retroactive, and will be levied for this calendar year. Returns on these must be made from January to March, 1918. Stamp taxes do not go into effect until Dec. 1.

Amusements Tax in Force Nov. 1. The tax on amusements, such as theaters and moving picture shows, becomes effective Nov. 1, and returns on all amusements' taxes should be made within 30 days from the date the law became operative.

Collector Moore said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that an estimate of the amount of money this district will realize under the new tax could not be made, owing to the great number of sources of revenue touched by the law, and the thousands of additional individual incomes to be assessed.

Under the old income tax law, when persons with incomes under $100 a year were not required to make returns, the collector's office added more than $900 returns. This number will be greatly increased by the present tax, which provides that returns shall be made on net incomes of $100 for unmarried and $200 for married men.

Collector Moore said that the bulk of the anticipated revenue will come from taxes on excess profits growing out of business stimulated by the war; on manufacturers, particularly of whiskey, beer and tobacco products, and on incomes of individuals, and corporations such as street-car companies, associations, utility companies and insurance companies.

Returns will be made first by the brewers, wholesale liquor dealers, distillers and tobacco dealers and manufacturers, on schedules to be filed with the collector Nov. 1.

Club members, who will be taxed 10 percent on their dues exceeding $1 a year, shall make individual monthly returns. Collector Moore said that places of public amusement, and places of public entertainment, theaters and picture houses where 10 cents or more is charged for admittance, shall also make returns.

The Government, it appears, is not concerned how such amusement places make a charge to meet the tax.

Railroad Berths to Be Taxed. Manufacturers also shall make monthly returns on prescribed schedules, but excess profits will be taxed only on the basis of a calendar year, the same as incomes of individuals and corporations.

Comfort facilities of public utilities, which are charged for, such as heat and railroad berths and parlor chairs, will be taxed 10 percent of the privilege is sold for, and railroad and boat tickets, where the fare exceeds 35 cents, will be taxed 10 percent of the cost.

Where the price of admittance is 10 cents or more to theaters, moving picture shows and all places of public amusement, conducted for profit, except in the case of parks where there are taxed concessions, a tax of 10 percent for each admission will be charged against the owner of such places, and he must make monthly returns of attendance.

Levies Against Medicines. A manufacturers' tax of 2 percent will be levied against perfumes, essences and all cosmetic pills, tablets, powders, ointments and patent medicines, including gum, breath perfumes and other like substances. Such returns must be made by the manufacturer, importer or producer within 30 days after the law became effective, but the time of payment will be extended six months by filing a bond with the collector.

Manufacturers, importers or producers of player-pianos, gramophones, phonographs and talking machines and records of such machines will be taxed 3 percent of the cost of each machine and record, and a tax of one-fourth of 1 percent on the net profit, and on all "possession" or films that have been exposed and sold or leased, a tax of one-half of 1 percent a linear foot will be assessed.

Auto Manufacturers Assessed. Any article commonly or commercially known as jewelry, real or imitation, will bear a manufacturers' tax of 3 percent on the price at which it is sold.

There will be a 3 percent manufacturers' tax on automobiles, auto accessories and auto parts.

Chart Showing Income Tax as Applied to Married Persons

THE following chart on income taxes is taken partly from a booklet issued by the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York. The figures are based on the war income tax law and the income tax law as amended Oct. 3, 1917. The chart shows the tax payable by a married person but does not take cognizance of the $200 exemption allowance for each dependent child.

UNION DAIRY CO. CUTS THE PRICE OF MILK TO 13 CENTS

Pevely and St. Louis Companies
Now Only Ones to Charge
14 Cents a Quart.

The Union Dairy Co., one of the four largest milk distributors in St. Louis, today cut the price of milk from 14 and 8 cents for quarts and pints, respectively, to 13 and 7 cents respectively.

This leaves only the Pevely and St. Louis Dairies maintaining the 14 and 8 cent prices, fixed Oct. 1, when the distributors were compelled to raise their price to producers from $2.20 to $3.30 a hundred pounds (11.63 gallons). Grafman Dairy Co.'s price also is 13 and 7, while all the smaller dairies are selling at this price or slightly lower. The retail price before Oct. 1 was 11 and 6 cents.

It could not be learned at the office of the Union Dairy Co. why the price was cut. J. P. Cabanne, president of the St. Louis Dairy Co., said the consumption of his company had decreased about 10 per cent because of increased prices, but that he expected a reaction before long.

Cabanne declared that his company would maintain the 14 and 8 cent prices, as he says they are justified by conditions, and that he would not think of departing from that price unless Pevely did so, in which event the St. Louis Dairy Co. could not be expected to stand alone on the high price.

At the Pevely office it was said that company would maintain its present prices.

The action of the Union Dairy came as a surprise to the St. Louis and Pevely companies, as Adam Thornton, manager of Union Dairy Co., was one of the staunchest supporters of the 14 and 8 cent basis.

Congress Outlined.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 8.—After a conference of three hours of members of the Government, including Premier Kerensky, with a delegation representing the Democratic Congress and with representatives of the Bourgeoisie yesterday a complete agreement was reached on all questions. The Premier declared the Government purposed immediately to form a complete Cabinet so that the reconstituted coalition Government might be able to go to work at once on the basis laid down.

In the view of the Government's objections the representatives of the Democratic Congress withdrew their request that one of their delegates participate in the forthcoming inter-allied conference in Paris.

M. Terestchenko, a secret session of the Preliminary Parliament, an outgrowth of the Democratic Congress, yesterday outlined the recent negotiations with the Government which, he said, led to a speedy agreement on all points except the responsibility of the Government to the Preliminary Parliament. The question was settled, he added, by an agreement that the Parliament should be convoked officially and organized by the Government. The Parliament would include 120 representatives of non-Democratic elements who would have the right to interpellate the Government which must reply formally.

The Government would not be responsible to Parliament, but no Cabinet could continue in existence without the confidence of the Parliament. The Parliament endorsed the formula covering the question of the responsibility of the Government to Parliament by 109 to 84, 22 members abstaining from voting.

M. Terestchenko announced that satisfactory assurances had been given the Democratic members of the Congress that energetic measures would be taken to convene an inter-allied conference for the revision of treaties at which democracies would be represented.

Premier Makes Appeal.
When a committee from the Democratic Congress visited Premier Kerensky he spoke as follows:
"The growth of anarchy, the condition of political ruin which confronts the country, the extravagant demands of various groups and the strivings in certain quarters to restore the former regime force a recognition of the necessity of union and coalition. Only the union of the bourgeois and democratic elements can save the country."

Minister of Foreign Affairs Terestchenko pleaded for a reconstruction of the nation's forces so the delegates who will participate in the Paris conference Oct. 18 "may point out to the allies that our fighting force has been renewed and that our boast of strength is no myth."

"Owing to the vacillating character of the congresses which one day welcome the War Minister with his aims for reconstruction of the army and the next day applaud the Bolshevik program, the Government has passed 56 out of 197 days in a state of crisis," M. Terestchenko added.

U. S. TROOPS IN FRANCE IN FINE SPIRIT, SHARP DECLARES

Ambassador Who Returns From Front Praises Bravery of French and British Soldiers.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Prof. Paul Van Dyke, president at a dinner given last week in honor of the American Ambassador William Graves Sharp. The Ambassador, who has just returned from a visit to the American troops, said he had found them in fine spirits. There were things in this war, he said, which even a correspondent could not exaggerate—such as the devastation by the Germans and the bravery of the British and French troops.

Various resolutions were adopted including the following:
"We, 45 citizens of the United States, correspondents and trained observers at the front and other visitors, after a careful study of the situation on and behind the battle lines, unite in a message of good cheer to our fellow countrymen."

"First—our soldiers now here and constantly arriving are of a quality which has won the admiration of the allies. Good judges say it is unequalled on either side of the battle lines."

"Second—We feel it should be understood at home that while the losses are very great, beyond all precedent, yet the proportionate loss is not above other wars."

Other resolutions referred to the activity and effectiveness of the American sea fighters in assisting the British navy and the high morale both among the troops and people of France and Italy; denounced the deliberate destruction by the Germans of cities having no strategic importance and the carrying off into captivity of the daughters of whole communities.

Former Secretary Bryan also will deliver speeches.

REED AND STONE COMING HOME TO "PACIFY" VOTERS

Meetings Expected to Be Announced at Which They Can Defend War Legislation Records.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 8.—Democratic politicians, now that Congress is adjourned, are looking for the first indications of "gun shoe" work on the part of United States Senators Reed and Stone to overcome the widespread opposition to them which has developed because of their attitude of opposition to the President on war measures.

It is the expectation that within a few weeks there will be an announcement that Democratic meetings will be held in several parts of the State to stir up enthusiasm and keep the organization of working Democrats in full swing, but that the real purpose will be to permit the Senators to go before the voters with carefully prepared defenses of their actions.

Scheme Used in 1915.

This was the scheme followed in 1915 when Senator Reed was in bad odor because of his opposition to the President at that time. Meetings were held in Hannibal, Marshall, Sedalia, Nevada, Cape Girardeau and Springfield. They were announced to be for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm among Democrats, but when they were held they were found to be for the purpose of enabling Reed to make his defense. He brought into the State Senator Lewis of Illinois and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, who told that Senator Reed had been a great aid to the President, and Senator Reed even managed to obtain a letter from the President thanking him for his assistance. The scheme worked well. Politicians believe that this time the Senators will be able to get other Senators to come in and speak for them, but they do not believe they will have letters from the President. Senator Reed made a hurried trip to Missouri six weeks ago to see party leaders and attempt to prevent the spread of opposition to him, but is said to have been greatly discouraged at the conditions he found existing.

Congressmen Returning Home.
Missouri Congressmen already are arriving home. With few exceptions the members of the House supported the President, but one of these exceptions is Congressman Shackelford of Jefferson City. Shackelford has told friends that he will be a candidate for re-election.

Strong opposition is developing to him throughout the district, and there is a serious attempt to line up this opposition in support of A. T. Dumm, a Jefferson City lawyer. There seems to be a strong probability that Dumm and Shackelford will be the only candidates, and if they are Dumm would be considered the favorite in the race.

The only opposition to Dumm heard here is because he has been attorney for John P. Gordon and D. C. McClung in criminal prosecutions and in libel suits they have brought. Dumm's friends, however, insist that his connection was only that which any lawyer has with a client. Dumm served as a member of the Legislature two terms with a record which never brought forth any severe criticism.

prefer to sell at an actual loss, if necessary, and dispose of overstock when the demand for their wares is at its height. This manufacturer follows the latter policy—and here are 300 of his smartest dresses at one-third to one-half intended prices.

SENATE REPORT FAVORS CONTROL OF PRINT PAPER

Says "Good for Excessive Profits Has Imposed Unjust Burden on American Press."

NO ACTION TILL DECEMBER

Resolution Calls for Control and Distribution of Product by Government for War Period.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—A report recommending Government operation of the print paper and pulp industries during the war and arranging what it calls the deflation of print paper prices, has been filed by the Senate Printing Committee. It will await action at the December session.

The report says the Federal Trade Commission's findings "show beyond any question that the paper industry, in its greed for excessive profits, has imposed a most unjust burden on the American press, which faces a serious disaster if relief cannot speedily be had from the oppressive prices now exacted for print paper." It adds that the commission, in its recent investigation, exhausted every resource at its command to obtain relief for the publishers, but has been able to get only a small measure of relief, owing "to the defiant attitude assumed by the principal producers of print paper and lack of authority of the commission to enforce its findings to a fair and reasonable price."

What Resolution Proposes. Under a resolution introduced by Senator Smith of Arizona and reported by the committee for passage the Trade Commission would be empowered to control the production and distribution of print paper and mechanical and chemical pulp in the United States. All print paper and pulp mills and agencies would be operated on Government account and their products pooled in the commission's hands during the war emergency and equitably distributed at a price based on production and distribution cost, plus a fair profit per ton, to be determined by the commission. Provision is made in the resolution for co-operation with the Canadian Government and for limiting imports into the United States during the war to shipments for Government account.

The committee report points out that as a result of the commission's investigations seven leading news print manufacturers have been indicted for violating the Sherman anti-trust law, and the commission has entered formal complaint against the book paper manufacturers bureau of statistics and 23 member companies of that bureau, but that up to this time neither the indictments nor the complaints have afforded any measure of protection to the publishers.

Relief Must Be Speedy. Most of the newspapers of the country, the report says, are at the point where they must soon renew contracts and if adequate relief is to be had it must be without waiting for the prosecution of the indictments and complaints.

"The committee," it concludes, "submits to the Senate whether it is better to safeguard the continuance of a free press in the country by assuring it an adequate supply of print paper at a fair and reasonable price or whether to permit a further increase in the excessive profits of the paper industry, which the Federal Trade Commission declares is about to exact $17,500,000 more in excessive profits from the American publishers who are loyally and patriotically supporting their Government in this fearful hour."

WOMAN'S ADMIRER KILLED AFTER QUARREL WITH HER

Alleged to Have Threatened Her When She Was Visiting Sister With Another Man; Complaint Filed.

Earl Roach, 29 years old, who lived on Chouteau avenue, between Sixth and Seventh streets, was found dead with bullet wounds in his back and arms at 8:30 o'clock last night in a hallway at 838 South Seventh street. Miss Emma Schumacher, 22 years old, of 738 South Sixth street, and Peter McCann, 22, of 1016 Park avenue, were arrested in an alley behind 1107 South Eleventh street. They admitted having had a quarrel with Roach, but denied knowing who had shot him.

Miss Schumacher told the police that Roach formerly had been her suitor and was jealous of McCann. She said that while she and McCann were visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lottie Kassebaum, 827 South Ninth street, last night, Roach entered the house, flourished a revolver and threatened her. A loaded revolver was found in Roach's coat pocket.

PRESIDENT PRAISES PURPOSE OF SOLDIERS' CAMP PAPER

"Trench and Camp" to Be Link Between Citizens and Army. Editor Is Told.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—In the first issue of Trench and Camp, the weekly newspaper for national army and national guard training camps which appears this week, there will be a letter from President Wilson to John Stewart Bryan of Richmond, Va., editor in chief, expressing appreciation of this work of newspaper men and emphasizing the importance of keeping the nation and its soldiers in touch.

The President wrote: "My dear Mr. Bryan: I am happy to have a chance to say this word of gratitude for the newspapers which you and your associates are so generously providing to be issued in our great training camps. 'I understand that this is to be, in a very special sense, a soldier's newspaper and that it would not doubt be devoted to substantial part to matters of local and peculiar interest in the camps in which they appear, but that they will also have a general influence in interpreting to the soldiers the hope and enthusiasm of the nation behind them and interpreting to the nation the fine determination and spirit of our men in arms.'"

"It is important that there should be no loss of touch between the nation and its soldiers and the series of papers so generously provided will be helpful in maintaining the spirit and understanding of both."

Trench and Camp is to be published simultaneously for each of the camps by a newspaper of a nearby city. The newspapers will get out the paper without charge and turn it over to the Y. M. C. A. for distribution.

FATHER OF GIRL SAYS PIERSON WROTE HER FOR HER PICTURE

Police Board Bookkeeper to Testify About Request He Had Investigated and Found Claims a Myth.

Charles A. Apel of 2828A Texas avenue, bookkeeper in the office of the Police Board, has been summoned as a witness in the trial of Claude G. Pierson, at Marshfield, Mo., on the charge of kidnapping the Keet baby in Springfield.

Apel will testify to a letter which he received July 17, 1916, from Springfield, which was signed by "Capt. Claude G. Pierson, U. S. A." and which contained a request for a photograph of Apel's little daughter. Pierson wrote that he had seen the child's picture published in a St. Louis newspaper, and that it greatly resembled "my dear Ruby, who was killed in the raid on Glen Springs, Tex., by Mexicans."

Apel through the office of the Chief of Police made inquiry from the Springfield police, and was informed that Pierson was not a member of the army, and that his story of a deceased daughter was a myth. Pierson was questioned by a Springfield policeman and gave the name of an army captain for whom he said he was acting, but examination of army records showed no such name. No action was taken, the police assuming that Pierson had a hobby for collecting children's photographs.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF MINES URGED AS ENGINEERS MEET

Regulation by Trade Commission Proposed in Paper by Francis S. Peabody.

Strong Government control, preferably through the medium of the Federal Trade Commission, was recommended for the bituminous coal industry at the opening today of the one hundred and fifteenth meeting of the American Institute of Mining Engineers at the Planters Hotel, in a paper prepared by Francis S. Peabody of Chicago, chairman of the coal production committee of the Council of National Defense, which was read to the gathering.

The mining engineers will be in session until Friday, part of which time will be spent in visiting industries in and about St. Louis. The Illinois mining district and the Tulsa, Ok., oil fields.

Peabody, in his paper, dwelt on the so-called bad features of the present system of producing coal, which he said was not only wasting the heritage of the people, but which was placing almost insurmountable difficulties for successors to overcome in working thinner veins of coal that are left.

Waste is pointed out. Peabody declared it would be far better if a situation could be created in the near future by a Government-regulated mining business, which would cause present properties to be operated on a reasonable basis, returning a fair percentage of recovery in coal, with regulations that would insure the best conditions for the safety of life and limb, and so founded that the operator would be assured a reasonable return on the capital invested.

The mining business, Peabody asserted, is beset by all manner of waste—waste of natural resources, waste of the human element and waste of capital, and the people do not seem to realize how dearly future generations will have to pay for this.

He explained the great loss in coal in the Illinois mines to the leaving in the mines of "room pillars," coal between the rooms, and the "chain pillars," coal between the entries, generally through inability to remove them on account of the "gob" or refuse that has been placed alongside them while taking coal from the rooms, and because of the fall of slate and roof resulting from insufficient and temporary timbering.

Pillars Cause Loss. Coal left in the ground is the only loss, Peabody pointed out. The pillars prevent the overlying strata from sinking evenly, in most cases breaking through the surface, thereby spoiling the surface drainage, frequently leaving a previously level surface rolling and full of sink holes. He estimated that fully $7,000,000 tons or screenings had been wasted in the State of Illinois, prior to the advent of the automatic stoker in 1900, which created a market for this cheaper grade of coal, which always had been thrown away, or left in the mines.

He declared that the business must be regulated from every standpoint and must start at the bottom. He advocated that the Government Commission must be assured that the prospective operator owns, or controls, sufficient coal land to permit a mine large enough to produce a sufficient tonnage to return the investment in the surface and plant and non-movable machinery. In other words, to wipe out the capital accounts.

Talks of Illinois Field. Prof. C. M. Young of the University of Illinois, spoke of the coal industry in that State. He said the industry there had not entirely emerged from its formative period, that it is not unified; that forces within it are constantly pulling in opposite directions, so that there is lack of harmony and no possibility, thus far, of wide planning for the most economical conduct of operations along lines leading to full utilization of coal deposits.

Among operators the desirability of harmonious relations is beginning to be felt. Prof. Young said, but as yet there is little practical co-operation. The competition between individual operators, working in the same parts of the district, has been partially eliminated in some cases, though not in all; but there is by no means such a harmonious relation of different districts over the State as would make possible the economical distribution of output and the elimination of a part of the waste due to overcapacity and destructive competition. He said it was probable that co-operation among producers would become thoroughly established only after some wide control of the industry had been assumed by the State or by the nation.

350 Delegates Expected. About 350 delegates are expected to attend the convention. Among those who had arrived today were Dr. Henry M. Ami, an attaché of the British embassy at Washington; Edmond Paix and Capt. Edward de Billy of the French High Commission; William Young Westervelt, Alfred W. G. Wilson, mining branch of the Canadian Geological Survey, and Fedor F. Foss of Petrograd, Russia, member of a Russian commission, representing the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, which came to this country to study mining conditions.

The afternoon session will be a patriotic one. After business sessions tomorrow, the delegates will make optional trips to St. Louis industries. On Wednesday evening a special train with delegates will depart for Joplin.

GERMAN SAVES THE LIFE OF AN IRISH OFFICER

Squinting in Shell Hole Two Hours. He Held Out Artery—Eris Men Brave in Charge. LONDON, Oct. 8.—A dispatch to the Daily News from British headquarters in Flanders makes special reference to the gallantry of some Irish troops in last Thursday's battle in Flanders.

Previous to the battle," says the dispatch, "they had made a petition to be allowed to go in, and when they went, they could hardly be restrained. They had a difficult job, because the front which they attacked was one of those marshy areas where they could not advance in a straight line, but had to turn half way through and swing half left."

"They were so keen at starting that many of them went right into our barrage. They kept up with it all the way, carried out their awkward movement admirably, got to their final line and then romped on and 'dug in' with anything in the way of the enemy or defensive position. They beat off a counter-attack in the early afternoon and took many prisoners."

"After the fight our men found an Irish officer in a shell hole with a wound in his thigh, where an artery was cut. In the shell hole with him was a German soldier, who squatted with both thumbs pressing on the artery and had been so squatting, holding the artery for two long hours. It was something of a feat of physical endurance in itself, and it undoubtedly saved the Irish officer's life."

Catholic Society Seeks Members. A campaign for 500 members will be made by the Knights of Columbus council in Alton during the coming year. An effort will be made also to get the 1919 State convention of the Knights of Columbus in Alton. Columbus Day, Oct. 12, will be celebrated appropriately by the council.

ROOSEVELT URGES
ALL TO PURCHASE
LIBERTY BONDS

Loan Offers People a Chance to Turn Tables on Wall Street,
Former President Declares.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 8.—Following is another editorial in the Kansas City Star by Col. Theodore Roosevelt:

By THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
Copyrighted, 1917, the Kansas City Star.
Reprinted in the Post-Dispatch by special arrangement with the Kansas City Star.

The bondholders and the people.
Not many years ago one of the favorite cries of those who wished to exploit for their own advantage the often justifiable popular unrest and discontent, was that "the people were oppressed in the interest of the bondholders." The more ardent souls of this type wished to repudiate the national debt to "wipe it out as with a sponge" in order to remove the "oppression." The bondholders were always held up as greedy creatures who had obtained an unfair advantage of the people as a whole.

Well, the Liberty loan now offers the chance to make the people and the bondholders interchangeable terms. The bonds are issued in such a way that the farmer and the wage worker have exactly the same chance as many or as few as they wish. No matter how small a man's means he can get some part of a bond if he wishes. The Government and the big financiers are doing all they can to make the sale as widely distributed as possible. Some bankers are serving without pay in the effort to put all the facts before the people as a whole, and so make the loan in very truth a people's loan. It rests with the people themselves to decide whether it shall be such.

The Government must have the money. It is a patriotic duty to purchase the bonds. And they offer an absolutely safe investment. The money is invested on the best security in the world—that of the United States, of the American nation itself. The money cannot be lost unless the United States is destroyed, and in that case we would all of us be smashed, anyhow, so that it would not make any difference.

The people can, if they choose,
now make themselves the bondholders. If they do not so choose and if they force Wall Street to become the largest purchaser of the bonds, which must be bought somehow,
then they will have no right in the future to grumble about the bondholders as a special class. We can now, all of us, join that class if we wish.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION WARNS
GREEDY FLOUR MILL OWNERS

Prosecutions to Be Made Against Manufacturers Who Seek Excess
Profits, Milling Division
Announces.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—A warning that action will be taken against a few flour mill owners in the United States who are seeking to accumulate profits in excess of those indicated by the Food Administration, where specific instances of such violation are discovered, was issued here by the milling division of the administration.

The statement says:
"A great many mill owners who are complaining that they have not received wheat, fail to realize that in numerous instances this arises through their failure to comply with the rules and regulations of the Food Administration Milling Division, or to follow instructions in making reports and requisitions for supplies."

"There are a few mill owners who have not executed their mill agreements. Their failure to do this is working a hardship on the general milling plan and will react to the present future disadvantage of the mills. It is imperative that every miller, large or small, for his own interests, as well as for the nation, should sign his agreement, should furnish the necessary information and should comply in all respects with the Food Administration's desires."

"The action of a few mill owners in advancing their own interests at the expense of the nation, is creating a situation to ask high prices and to accumulate profits in excess of that indicated by the Food Administration is creating an unfavorable impression and reflects upon the entire integrity of the milling plan. Mills should be warned that the accumulation of profits at this time in anticipation of unfavorable periods to follow, must be discontinued."

$214 FROM ACRE OF COTTON

St. Louisian Tells of Remarkable Return of $214.70 from one acre of cotton is reported by W. F.

Carter, vice president of the Mercantile Trust Co., who has returned from Wharton County, Tex., where he has on business connected with 18, 000 acres of farming land owned there by the Missouri-Lincoln Trust Co., now in hands of the Mercantile Co. Of this land 1028 acres are in corn and cotton, mostly cotton, and the cotton will average about one bale of 500 pounds to the acre.

One acre, however, yielded a bale which weighed 680 pounds and which was sold at 27 1/2 cents a pound, or a total of $174.50. The seed from the cotton was sold for an additional $39.20.

EXPECT LA FOLLETTE INQUIRY
TO BE FINISHED IN 10 DAYS

Senate Subcommittee Discusses Procedure and Whether Hearing Will Be Made Public.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Questions of procedure and whether its hearings shall be made public were among those awaiting determination
by a Senate Privileges and Elections Subcommittee, of which Senator Pomeroy of Ohio is chairman, when it met today preliminary to beginning an investigation of Senator Robert M. La Follette's alleged disloyal speech before the Nonpartisan League at St. Paul recently.

Since the scope of the inquiry is limited solely to the accuracy of the recorded speech and accuracy of Senator La Follette's statement of facts therein, the committee hopes to finish its work inside of 10 days. Senator La Follette was expected to furnish the committee with a correct copy of his speech today.

"FAIR AND WARMER" WELL
ACTED AT THE JEFFERSON

Cocktail Scene Has a Punch, and Audience Is Groggy With Laughter.

With an excellent cast and a superb assortment of cocktail ingredients, "Fair and Warmer" returned to the Jefferson last night and kept a good-sized audience in a constant titter and guffaw.

Edna Hibbard as "Blanny" Wheeler, the unsophisticated young wife who leads Billy Bartlett, played by John Arthur, the unsophisticated young husband, into a compromising position in order to avenge herself on her own husband, whom she suspects of deceiving her, was especially good. In the drunken scene in the second act, which is the big "punch" of the show, she was very effective.

The broad suggestive lines are tempered by the fine acting of the company, but the police and censors will have a busy time when "Fair and Warmer" gets out on the gasoline circuit.

Can an inner tube add strength to the outer tire?—D. C. F.

The ordinary inner tube is not built with the purpose of strengthening the outer casing. It is a mere inner lining designed to confine air-pressure only with the support of the outer casing. Not only does it give no strength to the outer casing, but because it is a mild, it is round or cylindrical and the casing cavity is pear-shaped—it is often the cause of pinching, pinching, leaks and blowouts. Its thickness allows maximum pressure to end and develop weak spots. To puncture it offers no resistance of its own, and to the punctured casing it gives no protection.
The ordinary inner tube is the seat of most tire trouble.

What is Rhinos Puncture Sealer?
"Rhinos Liquid Puncture Self-Sealer" is a mineral liquid which each Rhinos tube contains, being put in through the valve. This liquid is instantly forced by internal air-pressure into the hole made by an ordinary nail and prevents serious loss of air, doing away with the dirty work of changing tires on the road. The successful operation of the "Rhinos Liquid Puncture Self-Sealer" has been publicly demonstrated, and can be demonstrated any time at the factory.

J. McKean Cattell Says He Written Nothing Against Draft Law.

MAIDING WAR DEPARTM

Former Columbia
Points Out Work for Nation
Research Council.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Prof.
McKean Cattell, who was dismissed from the chair of psychology at Columbia University, which has held since 1888
given out the following statement:
"It is contrary to the ac-traditions of 800 years to dismiss a professor on account of his opinions expressed in a way to experts in the subject."
"It is illegal to dismiss a professor middle of the academic year on charges, without payment of year and without the pension he had earned by 28 years of service."

"I am opposed to war and war, but I have undertaken no action against the Government against its conduct of the war.
I have written nothing against draft law or against sending to Europe, although I regard measures as subversive of the national welfare."

Assisting War Department
"It is because I care for my country that I deplore its entry into a policy of strangling democracy at home. I have journals which I edit done to promote national efficiency. I am a member of the Psychological Committee of the National Research Council and spent a part of last week drawing up for the Department plans for the selection of aviators."

"In August, 1914, when Professor Wilson was telling us to be in thought as well as in deed, Dr. Roosevelt and Dr. Nicholas Butler were 'pussyfooted' wrote in one of the journals edit."

"The official German justification of the mad and wanton war is that it is in defense of the Teutonic culture and against the semi-Asiatic and Slav hordes. The verdict of will probably be that it was a calculation for caste and aggrandizement, and a war of aggression. The German and his bureaucratic military leadership probably held that it was ripe for an extension of influence in the Balkans towards Asia Minor with an of its African possessions at the expense of France. But it is why, if the serpent was prepared to strike, it did not show leged wisdom."

In June, 1917, I began a letter to the New York Evening Post words:

"An Emperor, driven to militaristic and capitalistic his people and 'by God dem-must accept responsibility for great crimes."

Letter to Congress.
rust 23 to members of the Congress account of which I have missed from the chair of psychology at Columbia University, said support for a measure then before the Senate and the House to send conscripts to fight against their will. The law requiring or permit-ing conscription to send "conscripts" to fight in Europe, this would be contrary to the
of the constitution and to form policy of the nation.
provides a less efficient might cause disorder and revolution at home. Sur-should not be done without consideration by the Congress efforts to learn the will of the people. I have only argued the case for a right and fulfill duty of a citizen in petitioning Government to enact which I believe to be in the of the nation. For this I missed from the Division of phy. Psychology and Anthrowhich I have made the story of the world. Professors in everywhere are terrorized, so dare not exert their influence and good will.

"The people of all the nations long for peace, but at war by the kleptocratic in spite of the institutions instincts which we have inherited from a barbarous past, I believe that we have no heart war into which they have driven. But even if that should become a mob mad
it is none the less the business of us to do what he righteousness as he sees it.
is forbidden by force, then in-need a new national anthas Shelley once wrote for God prayer, speed, and save God from England's hat murdered Queen!
Pave with swift victory
The steps of liberty.
Whom Britons own to be Immortal Queen."

500 Suits at $22.50

One of the Many Features of
St. Louis' Premier Suit Stock

What a choice that gives a woman who is looking for the unusual! No matter what her inclinations, they are here anticipated. And you know that VARIETY is one of the chief factors that goes to make up VALUE!

We venture that these Suits at $22.50—well-tailored gabardines, soft, clinging Oxfords and Burellas—will satisfy any style preference short of the exclusive features found in the very finest Suits.

And Then at $45.00

are Suits of rich twills, velours and glistening broadcloth—garments whose narrow shoulders, slim bodies and deftness of line make their possessor the envy of all who see her. Complete size ranges in every style.

At $59.75—Finer Suits

Fortunate indeed is the woman who can choose her Suit from this group. As soft as silk, almost, are the velours, pompons and silver-tones from which they are developed, and to drape them and plait them and gather them and shirr them as these are draped and plaited and gathered and shirred requires genius of the highest order. They are not high priced, considering the wear and pleasure you'll get out of them.

Third Floor

We Bought Out S. Ruby's Stock of Solid Silver Hollow Ware

—and to sell it out in the shortest time possible we've applied the very lowest of prices.

The Ruby stock, located on North Sixth street, is familiar to St. Louisans as standing for the best in the silversmith's art. It included thousands of dollars' worth of the finest sterling silver, in which figured prominently such master names as GORHAM, WOODSIDE, WILLCOX & EVERSON.

Christmas gifts may well be chosen here—just a few of the savings mentioned—

In every instance the sale price is less than today's whole-sale price—in some cases almost the price of silver bullion.

The selection includes such giveable pieces as: Bread and Butter Plates, Heavy Silver Coasters, Silver Vegetable Dishes, Silver Bread Trays, Silver Mayonnaise Sets, Silver Loving Cups, Silver Sugar and Cream Sets, 7-piece Almond Sets, Silver Salt and Pepper Sets, Silver Open Salt Dishes, Heavy Silver Napkin Rings, Silver Flower Vases, Silver Water Pitchers, Silver Compotes, Silver Candlesticks, Silver Bowls and Baskets.

MISS VERNETTA HINDE.

How Miss Vernetta Hinde and Anna Wall Have Built Up a Prosperous Lunch Room, Where Bare Tables, Carpetless Floors and Absence of Luxury Are the Rule.

By Marguerite Martyn.

HOW to succeed in business—though a woman—did not long trouble Miss Vernetta Hinde when she was thrown upon her own resources. She was not the kind to build castles in the air without considering the first steps of approaching them.

Always she had loved to cook, so when her wealthy family met with sudden reverses, she decided to turn her surest accomplishment to account.

The St. Louis Lunch Room, in the Kinloch Building, at Tenth and Olive streets, is the result of that decision. Do I need to tell discriminating diners that the lunch room is a success? For the last 12 years every week-day noon-time between 300 and 500 patrons have been responding to its unique appeal.

That appeal is best defined in Miss Hinde's own words: "A place where busy men and women can be served real food without elaborate service."

Sounds like a very simple and commonplace formula, but it is not. There would seem to be nothing unique about it. But ask any of these same discriminating diners if there is another restaurant which so thoroughly and literally lives up to basic, fundamental principles of dining as the lunch room is expected to be.

To Miss Hinde and Miss Anna Wall, who is now her partner and hearty co-operator, "without elaborate service" means absolutely that you sit at bare tables, not too highly polished, that can be quickly cleaned between courses. No time is wasted in the changing, no expense in the washing of tablecloths. The floors are carpetless and well scrubbed. The waitresses are practical looking women in singhams gowns.

"Real food" means material of the best procurable quality, prepared upon scientific principles, so that each article may be as nearly as possible a "whole food."

In this case the proof of the pudding is certainly in the eating. And my purpose is not to deal with effects already well established. It is the underlying cause, the story behind the lunch room which ought to prove interesting and enlightening to those interested in the success of distinctively feminine enterprises.

"The most experienced dealers in foodstuffs have told us repeatedly that we could not buy the quality of foods we do," said Miss Hinde to me, "and compete with department store lunchroom prices and make money. They advised us not to pay 45 cents a pound wholesale for beef, but to buy it in bulk. They advised us to substitute cheaper cuts of beef for the 40-cent cuts we buy. They marvel that we can have our canning and preserving done by the highest priced confectioner in town, but we import our olive oil from Italy, that, in short, we can provide food such as is demanded by the public."

"I'm not too bad," he said, "but it's too bad he has such a bulldogged grandfather—that is on the maternal side."

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

Mr. Fox's Game.

IT was just before Thanksgiving and Mr. Fox knew that all the poultry yard folks would be in fine condition, and while he was usually thankful when he could get one plump duck or goose his mouth was usually full of pleasure at the thought of eating all he wanted.

"I don't see why I should not have a good Thanksgiving like anyone," said Mr. Fox, as he trotted over the hill toward the farm.

"I would be very thankful for two fat turkeys, and that is what Thanksgiving day is for, I am told—to give thanks. Now, if I could only think of some way to get three or four or even more of those fat turkeys out of their house I could have a feast."

As Mr. Fox trotted along he began to smile and by the time he reached the barnyard he was almost laughing, for he had thought of a plan to get the turkeys out of the poultry house.

Very softly he crept over to the door and tapped and when Madam Turkey, who was sleeping with one eye open, heard him and asked what was wanted, he whispered: "Come out in the moonlight and play at blind-man's bluff."

"What sort of a game is that?" asked Madam Turkey. "I suppose it is a game where you win. Mr. Fox, you cannot get me out for your breakfast. I have heard of your tricks before."

"Oh! my dear madam, you do me a great injustice," said Mr. Fox in an injured tone. "I came here tonight to do your family a favor, to help you, and now you accuse me of such a terrible thing as that. Very well, Madam Turkey, you can be a Thanksgiving dinner for some one if you like. I'll go to the farm on the other side of the road and tell my plan to the turkeys over there. I am sure they will be more grateful than you have been."

Mr. Fox started off, but Madam Turkey called to him: "Come back and tell me about your plan; it will do no harm to listen to it."

Of course, this was just what Mr. Fox wanted, so he came back and whispered: "My dear Madam Turkey, you and all your family have been fattened by the cruel farmer to sell for Thanksgiving. Now, my plan is that you all come out in the woods and play at blind-man's bluff, and if you keep at it all night by morning you will be quite thin. Running about will take off your fat, and then the farmer will not have time to fatten you again. In this way you can really see you all will escape being a dinner for someone on Thanksgiving day."

Madam Turkey was delighted with the plan, for all her family were feeling quite troubled about Thanksgiving, so she called them all and told them of Mr. Fox's plan. Without waiting to consider what might happen to them alone with Mr. Fox in the woods, all the foolish turkeys jumped from their roosts and fled out the window, which was open at the top.

"Now, be very quiet and follow me," said Mr. Fox, thinking he would have a feast for several days if he could catch them all.

In spite of their care to make no noise, Ned, the watch dog, heard them. "Now, you see those turkeys going at this time of night?" said Ned, following after them.

When Mr. Fox reached the woods he led the way right up to his house, where he stopped, and told the turkeys this was a good place for the game.

"The way we play it," he said, "is for one of you to have your eyes covered with a cloth and try to catch the rest of us. You see, the more you run, the more you lose your fat. So you must be careful not to run too far."

Mr. Fox took his handkerchief and bound his own eyes, to show them how, and when he had it well over his head he bounded out from the bushes and caught him by the neck.

"You are it, Mr. Fox!" he said. "You didn't count on my playing, did you?"

Floating Mines

By C. D. BACHELOR.

WHEN we have dropped into the sea of human intercourse, a highly explosive mine of grave suspicion, we never know whether it is going to injure the guilty or the innocent.

It may float around for weeks and finally fruitlessly waste its force on some deserted beach.

Or some night some reputation may meet with its high seas and that good ship, "A Fair Name," may go down never to rise again.

It is wise, therefore, to take the risk of thus spreading ruin for the sake of a momentary gratification we spread a doubtful report? Silence is rich in rewards.

What Is the Sixth Sense? Now Pzzles Scientists

SCIENTISTS long ago decided that the dog has a sixth sense. Many human beings also seem to possess this additional faculty. As proof that a dog has an extra sense, it is pointed out that on many occasions dogs have been carried far from home, only to escape and return at the first opportunity. This is argued, cannot be explained as a sense of direction alone. It is something more scientists are convinced. Every one has seen instances of a dog picking out its master from a crowd of people. This might be attributed to the dog's keen sense of smell, but the question is at least debatable.

So far as human beings are concerned, many of us have known persons who apparently possessed a canny faculty of foreseeing certain events. This might be explained by saying that they had an unusual gift of intelligence, or were governed by the lessons of past experiences. But it is easy to cite instances where persons of no special intelligence have seemed to "feel" a coming event of which they had had no previous knowledge and which did not lay within the scope of their experience. This ability to "feel" things is given to all of us in some degree. For instance, we easily know who are our friends and enemies, although no spoken word may have been passed that would prove either assumption. Many of us seem to "feel" the approach of danger or good fortune.

Full of Glory.

MARJORIE started the family the other morning by exclaiming at the breakfast table: "I'm full of glory."

"What on earth do you mean, child?" asked her mother.

"Why," exclaimed Marjorie, "a sunbeam just got on my spoon and I swallowed it!"—Boston Transcript.

Only One of His Kind.

JOHNNIE Jones was doing penance in the corner. Presently he thought aloud pensively: "I can't help it if I am not perfect," he sighed. "I have only heard of one perfect boy in my whole life."

"Who was that?" his father asked, thinking to point out a moral.

"You," came the reply, plaintively, "when you were little."—New York Globe.

Science Finds Rare Beauty Is a Menace to Owner

BEAUTY is dangerous! The sages have known it for centuries and warned young men against the power of sheer beauty in woman. But the world in general over-estimated that beauty was dangerous to its owner until the doctors began studying beauty from the scientific standpoint. Writing in the New York Medical Journal, Dr. Thomas Mann, Philadelphia, says:

"The possibility exists that the type of the human constitution which is distinguished by great beauty may be transformed from a normal body into one that is diseased. Beauty is known as consumption. Beauty has at all times been recognized as being closely related to this disease in one way or another and also as being grafted on a highly developed and impressionable nervous substructure."

"Other marked features of this temperament are excessive delicacy of feeling, order, affection, a vivid imagination and great intellectual force. The complexion is fair and frequently beautiful. The features are beautiful. The form, though delicate, is often graceful. The skin is thin, of fine texture, and subcutaneous blue veins are numerous, shining very distinctly through the otherwise partly white integument. The pupils are usually myopic, and the eyeballs are not only large but prominent, the sclera showing a lustrous whiteness. Moreover, the eyelashes are long, the teeth regular and exquisitely white and the hair abundant."

"The graceful and refined form, the transparent skin through which are seen blue veins, etc., all indicate that the organism has attained a degree of anatomical and physiological perfection. But more is implied from the foregoing delineation when we remember the physiological law which predicates that no organ in the body can become functionally perfect without the other organs becoming implicated in the same process at the same time."

Thus the lucid walls of the veins signify that both the arteries and veins of the body are involved in the same process of structural refinement. It extends still further and imposes a higher state of functional culture on the brain and nervous system, which is marked by the gentle and graceful movements of the body and by the greater intelligence which are said to be the leading features in the life of such individuals.

"While beauty in itself is therefore a state of health and has nothing in common with disease, it must be borne in mind that this attribute, librium accompanying this attribute, of the balance wheel of a finely constructed watch, is so delicately adjusted that it is far more vulnerable to disturbances of healthful nature than the coarser grained and less sensitive organization."

Slightly.

So, you're leaving us, Mary. What's the trouble, don't you like the place here?"

"I did, but I ain't going to stay here no longer. You don't treat me like one of the family."

"Why, Mary, how can you say that?"

"It's plain as day. You were away for 10 days and you didn't even send me a picture postal card."

It Certainly Does Look Like the World's "Serious" for the New York Giants

M'GRAW UP AGAINST IT FOR PITCHER FOR THIRD SERIES GAME

First Two Contests, Won by Sox, Have Shown That Southpaws Will Not Stop A. L. Team.

By John E. Wray.

SPORTING EDITOR, POST-DISPATCH.

THE confidence early shaken by the two deserved defeats at the hands of the White Sox, in their world's series struggles, Saturday and yesterday, the New York Giants, are speeding toward New York, where the second chapter of this intersectional clash will be resumed tomorrow afternoon.

Yesterday's 7-to-3 defeat of McGraw's rough riders, tame now and rough only in memory, if you please, was more than a defeat since it showed the Little Napoleon's confidence in his future and put his entire pitching hopes practically up to Salie, with a possibility that Benton or Tetreau may be used.

For, in the two battles thus far fought, McGraw has been made to realize that the Sox have the measure of the great left-hander, Schupp, who was driven from the game yesterday in the second inning, that they have no further fear of either Anderson or Pettit, and that they have the confidence lent by a double victory over their rivals' best defensive assets.

Benton Only Regular Left.

Speculation as to the pitcher McGraw will use in the third game at New York, Tuesday, has been reduced to a minimum by yesterday's developments. His only remaining unused hurler, a left-handed man, called in Benton, and from the way the Sox took to Schupp's delivery yesterday, left-handers will be about as useful against Cleveland as a water bottle at the Woodland Bards Club. Left-hand pitching, it now seems certain, will not defeat the Sox. Nevertheless a left-hander will probably again feature the New York attack, inasmuch as Salie showed good, even winning form, against the American Leaguers in the first game Saturday. He held his own with Cloutier and might have won had his support had a heart and the "break" rested with his companions.

Chicago followers are therefore figuring that Cloutier and Salie will again figure in a duel Tuesday. However, it is probable that, with the game advantage in the series, Rowland will save his ace and take a chance on Russell, in the next encounter. It will give him his most reliable hurler to finish against the Giants in their home town.

All Advantage With Sox.

As the series measures up, after the first two days of play, belief that the American League is a strong organization seems to be borne out by the figures. This applies to pitching, hitting and all-around reliability.

In headwork, games and playing skill the honors thus far are entirely with the Sox, and those who have backed the American League solely because of a belief in its superiority to the "grandma" league, are giving Chicago that "I told you so" sign today.

The outstanding feature has been the stiff defense and more reliable all-around play of the Sox fielders. For New York Benny Kauff defensively has been uncertain throughout and this seems to have affected his hitting. Up to the present time Benny has hit or that part of 1,000 which he has pitched.

Kauff is the greatest disappointment McGraw has thus far suffered in the series. It is said the New York team were banking on this player to show something.

Chicago world's series enthusiasm may be said to be below par in the matter of hysteria or display of the ball park. The cheering is far from uproarious and on only one occasion—Happy Felsch's home run Saturday—has there any real heartfelt display.

Man for man the mighty ones of the Giants, the injured McCarthy and perhaps Holke, kept the Sox from hitting. Burns hit when he hit, didn't matter, and has rapped into double plays when his safeties were needed. Herzog, Kauff and Zimmerman, the supposedly strong center of the heavy artillery, have but one hit between the three of them, for the two games.

Sluggers Have Failed.

Pletcher, another good hitter, has made but one hit in seven official times at bat. Robertson, Holke and McCarthy constitute the main attacking force of the Giants in the games thus far played.

The onus of Giants' failure seems to rest as much upon the collapse of the big-caliber hitters as upon the weakness of the pitchers in the second game.

As to "inside play" forget it! Both sides have pulled several tactical and uncharted blunders. But the prize on remained for the Sox to lose. It was this when Faber tried to steal third base with that bag already occupied. This was evidently a case of missed signal, as the batter did not offer at the ball and the runner on third never moved. Faber, a pitcher, would not have attempted to go to third base had he not thought he had the hit-and-run signal. As it was, a most surprising looking play developed when Rowland sent the ball to Zimmerman, who found the third corner tenanted by two men. The side was retired on the final out.

The prevailing opinion in Chicago last night was that the Giants would be fortunate to win a game, unless Slim Salie turned the trick against some weak hurler. It was the general belief that, if Rowland sent Cloutier back Tuesday, Faber could come lack the next day and make it four straight.

Breaks With the Sox.

All of which reflects the optimism of Chicago. For, when it is said and done, the breaks of the game, in material and intellectual stuff, both have been with the Sox.

A turn in the luck might enable the Giants supported by a well-tried game, to recover their goals and elevate their doubters, that yesterday seemed hopelessly down.

Butting in the series has taken a decided turn. Instead of even money on the outcome, it is now 3 to 1 and better. There was even some whispering at odds of 4 to 3 to 1 that the Sox will yet make it four straight. Nevertheless the Giants are almost at even money for the second game in New York, chiefly on-

Faber Pulls Prize "Barry" Play of All World's Series Boners

PITCHER URBAN FABER, although he pitched a very remarkable game after the second inning yesterday, pulled the star "bone" play of all world's series games. He tried to steal third base while it was comfortably occupied by another White Sox player.

The fiasco occurred in the fifth inning, when the game had been made reasonably secure for the Chicago team with a five-run lead. Had the contest been close, or had the result turned on the Faber out, his break likely would have rung his ears for the rest of his natural life. Weaver had worked his way around to second. Then Faber surprised the crowd by hitting a sharp single into right field. That put Weaver on third, and the Sox pitcher ran down to second when Robertson relayed the ball to the plate. With Salie holding it the bat Faber made a wild dash for third. His lead had been so long that he had not the time to stop. An instant later, however, he was back on the ground. But with his eyes on Robertson and the ball he dashed past him. An instant later Robertson relayed the ball to Zim and Weaver was called out.

Chicago followers are therefore figuring that Cloutier and Salie will again figure in a duel Tuesday. However, it is probable that, with the game advantage in the series, Rowland will save his ace and take a chance on Russell, in the next encounter.

It will give him his most reliable hurler to finish against the Giants in their home town.

Herzog, of Rough Riding Tactics, Seems in Need of Rounding Up His Own Angora

THE mighty Herzog, he of the rough riding tactics and goat-getting ways, seems to be in need of rounding up his own angora, although he attempted no outbreak yesterday, beyond trying to interfere with a base runner once, he was helpless at the bat for the rest of the game. He hit in two days, bearing out his previous record of a batting average of about .200 for three world's series.

Man for man the mighty ones of the Giants, the injured McCarthy and perhaps Holke, kept the Sox from hitting. Burns hit when he hit, didn't matter, and has rapped into double plays when his safeties were needed. Herzog, Kauff and Zimmerman, the supposedly strong center of the heavy artillery, have but one hit between the three of them, for the two games.

The prevailing opinion in Chicago last night was that the Giants would be fortunate to win a game, unless Slim Salie turned the trick against some weak hurler. It was the general belief that, if Rowland sent Cloutier back Tuesday, Faber could come lack the next day and make it four straight.

The onus of Giants' failure seems to rest as much upon the collapse of the big-caliber hitters as upon the weakness of the pitchers in the second game.

As to "inside play" forget it! Both sides have pulled several tactical and uncharted blunders. But the prize on remained for the Sox to lose. It was this when Faber tried to steal third base with that bag already occupied. This was evidently a case of missed signal, as the batter did not offer at the ball and the runner on third never moved. Faber, a pitcher, would not have attempted to go to third base had he not thought he had the hit-and-run signal. As it was, a most surprising looking play developed when Rowland sent the ball to Zimmerman, who found the third corner tenanted by two men. The side was retired on the final out.

WRAY'S COLUMN

World's Series Games Analyzed.

AS far as played, the world's series games indicate to all who viewed them, superior White Sox advantages in:

1. Pitching. 2. Hitting. 3. Fielding. 4. Headwork.

Outside of that the Giants looked fairly well. Taking with the last point first, the White Sox subjected themselves to criticism in but two instances. In the first game Kid Gleason, coaching at third base, permitted Cloutier to try to go from first to third on a short single, forcing the star pitching reliance to "pump" himself out and also to slide into the bag. The other Sox offense was when Faber caused a congestion at third base by trying to steal that sack with Weaver on it. Both offenses, it will be noted, were committed by pitchers.

Many Mound Cityans who came up Saturday night, slept in lobby chairs and some are even said to have walked the streets.

The Giants' lack of judgment, individual and managerial, cost them the first contest. Two men, Holke and Kauff, were caught napping off first base. With one run in and one needed to tie and Salie on first, McGraw let Burns hit into a double play instead of sacrificing the runner.

He repeated the play in the second game with same hitter up. Sox field brilliantly. In fielding the outstanding mistakes of the Giants were by Kauff, who fielded ground balls badly, and once played for a catch when he should have tried to take the play on the bound. The ball went through his legs and caused a sensation play on the same sort of ball, in the same game.

Zimmerman, too, was erratic at third, his principal offense being his inability to stop a grounder that went straight between his legs. It was called a hit, however.

The McMullen-Weaver combination justified itself in both games. Risberg is not missed.

Charles Comiskey left yesterday's game immediately after the Sox made five runs. The Old Roman was in the dugout at the White Sox ball Saturday night was the sum of $275,000, representing seat sales for three world's series games, and the normal club deposits.

Buck Weaver had 13 chances, all handled cleanly.

Seats put on public sale both days all sold out two hours after the ticket offices were opened. There were about 16,000 seats sold to the public in this way.

Phil Ball ducked away from the St. Louis series to attend the Chicago meeting.

Giant Rooters Wearing Jaws at Half Mast, Hope to Recover in Gotham

By Arthur (Bugs) Baer.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Directly south of skies that were as blue as the New York delegation of rooters present, the Chicago Sox dedicated another beating to the Giants with elaborate ceremonies and appropriate gestures. Having absorbed a twin beating, Manager McGraw is sorer than a bear with a flat wheel. The Giants ambled to this neck-o'-woods figuring that the series was a push-over. If our skill isn't limping on the facts, Von Kluck also figured that the trip to Paris was also a push-over.

When the Giants lost Saturday, McGraw doped that it was an accident, but yesterday's punneling makes it authentic. You never lapped an accident that stuttered. The Giant rooters are wearing their jaws at half-mast, but they figure that the boys will turn a trifle faster on the home territory. You have got to concede that Rowland has knitted a set of Sox that are mighty hard to unravel. Still, where there is a baseball life, there is a baseball hope. A world's series is never over until the bartender puts the last customer out and plays "Home, Sweet Home" on the cash register.

The English Commission a more corrugated reception than Chicago's team slipped the New York Baseball Commission. Yes, be. The fourth inning was the stunner that extracted all the romance from the "tournament" for the Giants. In that episode McGraw changed everything but the bat bag. But the Chicago swing from their pockets and glued the cavalcade for New York.

Mack changed his pitchers faster

LOWDERMILK HOLDS CARDS SCORELESS IN DOUBLE HEADER

Big Righthander Keeps Browns in City Series Running by Iron Man Pitching.

The Browns partially squared a debt to Grover Cleveland Lowdermilk in a double-header at Sportsman's Park yesterday. Transformed from a semi-demoralized machine into one of faultless defensive mechanism, Jones' athletes stepped out and met the issue squarely. They took the first game of the twin bill, 2 to 0, and held the National Leaguers to a scoreless tie in nine innings in the afternoon, darkness forcing the teams to call it quits at the completion of the ninth stanza.

Lowdermilk pitched both games and therein hangs a story. Grover has pitched three entire games against the Cardinals and a sufficient portion of a fourth to be credited with a victory. Of the six games played between the teams, the Browns have won two, lost three and tied another. Lowdermilk has won both and by all the laws of good baseball he should have won three games.

Joe Jackson fooled them all—he shared the highest fielding and hitting honors with Happy Felsch.

The McMullen-Weaver combination justified itself in both games. Risberg is not missed.

Charles Comiskey left yesterday's game immediately after the Sox made five runs. The Old Roman was in the dugout at the White Sox ball Saturday night was the sum of $275,000, representing seat sales for three world's series games, and the normal club deposits.

Lowdermilk has pitched three entire games in five days, which gives him an average of working offener than every other day.

Behind the big pitcher yesterday the Browns played brilliant baseball. They were obligated to Grover Lowdermilk for the first game of the series off for him, and only Bill Doak's masterful hurling prevented the American Leaguers from putting a tie in the series. The Browns made 10 errors in the first two games of the series yesterday they made one error in two games, and it failed to hurt. That's the difference between victory and defeat.

"Dope" Was Spilled in Second Game

Title Clash and With It Giants' Hope

McGraw's Men Evidently Under-rated Wallop of Which White Sox Are Possessed, Says Analyst.

By Hugh S. Fullerton.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.

LOOIE: the dope was spilled and with it the hopes of the Giants. Yet New York should not despair. The Giants are not nearly as bad a ball club as they appeared to be during the strenuous and thrilling episodes of the first four innings, nor are the White Sox as much better a ball club as they appeared to be during those same moments.

The Giants evidently underrated, for the time being, that wallop of which the White Sox are possessed. They did not know that, when the Sox are driven back upon the defensive they are most dangerous. They proceeded, with the help of a blunder by Schalk, to grab the lead early in the game, and the White Sox rose up, rearing to go and they went. They waded into the Giants with wallop after wallop and evened up the count.

Their lack of a skilful and well-arranged offense kept them from winning the game right there, but later they routed pitcher after pitcher and from then on the two teams played in order to complete the box score. The finish came tamely and with a chill wind bringing a clammy finish to a perfect day. But the heart was not chiller than were the hearts of the Giant rooters.

Sox There With Wallop.

The Giants, having played against National League hurlers all summer, and being the possessors of the punch, declined to believe that the White Sox were there with a wallop in either hand, nor do they appear to realize that the Sox are not a team that fights until they are in trouble. Yesterday they got into trouble.

There was no doubt but that they were in trouble, for "Red" Faber is not a pitcher who is inspired when his team is behind, or when the luck appears to favor the other party. Red doped to pitch a shut-out game against the Giants, and he started out as if to deliver.

He had everything, minus perfect control, yet he was pitching carefully and easily and absolutely to orders. His side arm splitter was cracking across the plate, and the Giants were not hitting him to any great extent.

In the second inning the Giants spilled the dope for a minute or two. Faber appeared to have trouble with his control and the Giants exhibited their National League brand of punch. They hit hard and with some luck and the pinch our valiant little hero, Ray Schalk, contributed one bone.

Schalk has a habit of playing the runners instead of the ball. He seems to think that the play at the plate is to sit down on the base runner and let the ball come to him. Robertson was coming to the plate and got a chance existed to prevent him from scoring. The ball was coming in and Schalk ran down the line intent upon hitting him up to the plate. As a result the ball got past him and as usual one was backing up with any certainty and two runs scored instead of one. Otherwise Faber would have kept his slate clean, for the Giants did him no material damage during the ensuing rounds.

"Boner" by Schalk Hurt.

The Giants smiled, confidently, not realizing that the worst thing in the world for them to do was to provoke the White Sox. When the Sox get provoked and peevish they are a bad ball club and liable to do violence to someone, thereby violating the rules of world's series, which are supposed to be polite and tame.

They immediately battered Ferdie Schupp to a pulp. Jackson, Felsch, Gandil and Weaver slamming out hits in quick succession. Then, as usual, the White Sox failed to deliver the sacrifice and left it tied. But they had destroyed one of our Eastern heroes. They had maltreated Ferdie Schupp and he retired, letting Anderson bring on his Federal League brand of pitching. Anderson used clean speed and a side-arm split ball and the White Sox scratched their heads and puzzled over it for one inning, then resumed the battering.
